

I am highly concerned that a single individual can own vast portions of the media. Take the example of Rupert Murdoch. He has abused his media power in the UK and influences public opinion markedly in the US with his media empire. Diverse points of view are needed for a strong democracy. Please do not go forward with relaxing the rule on media ownership